

I remember..... By John Buchanan

I think it was about June 1990 and the Rev Clifford Taylor was the Superintendent Minister of Omagh and Fintona Circuit.

I'm not sure how he booked them but I recall going into the hall at Omagh Methodist Church one Friday evening and hearing this wonderful praise and worship music group.

The group was called VINESONG.

Vinesong were formed in 1986 by Pastor John Watson who played the keyboards and sang – and bearing in mind that I was hearing them just 4 years after formation, and in a rural church hall, I might well have formed the view that I was unlikely to hear of them again!

However I loved their music and I recall buying a few of the CDs around that time and still enjoy listening to them but now of course their songs are available on YouTube. Vinesong have since ministered in over 40 countries around the world.

One of my favourite songs is “Let Your Living Water” – I recommend you have a listen to this song and go on to explore more of their other lovely songs.

A little bit about VINESONG: (from their Website)

Vinesong is an international, interdenominational team of Christian missionaries. The team shares the gospel through worship and the word, living and traveling together 11 months of every year. The team is based in the UK, although the members are each from different nations.

It is the heart cry of Vinesong to encourage unity, growth and balance in the lives of believers. Through worship and teaching of the Word, these changes take place as a necessary preparation for revival.

It is Vinesong's desire to see the Father's love extended to every area of hurt and pain in the life of the believer. As people are healed and made whole, they become more fully equipped to carry out the Great Commission - fulfilling the plan and purpose for their lives while introducing others to their very own.

"Then Jesus came to them and said, "All authority in heaven and on earth has been given to me. Therefore go and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, and teaching them to obey everything I have commanded you. And surely I am with you always, to the very end of the age.""

Matthew 28:18-20
